L'Inferno (Dante's Inferno, or The Inferno) SI – 1 ¾

Note: From the Manger to the Cross was arguably the first feature-length American movie, in 1912. Older features exist, notably L'Inferno (referenced above) and a handful of other European films. But it was an Australian movie that claimed the title of first “feature film.” That movie, The Story of the Kelly Gang, was released in 1906 and is now largely lost. This website does list many movies older than 1911 (actually going back to 1888), but they are all short films. (See the shorts lists referenced on the Movie Lists page.)

My “thumbs-up” and “thumbs-down” designations represent my attempt to judge whether an audience should see a film. But film is immensely personal. So, based upon your own tastes, age and life experiences, you might want to give a 2 ½ or a 2 ¼-star film a try. Conversely, films that I've given 2 ¾ or 3 stars to might not work for you. Interestingly, Rotten Tomatoes assigns all films below 60 percent critic approval (translating, essentially, to less than 3 stars on a 5-star scale) a thumbs-down. So my designation of 2 ¾ stars can be viewed as equivalent to 3 in the context of Rotten Tomatoes.
